

Tuck Advancing Entrepreneurship Programs

Sponsorship Overview

When You Invest in Small Business Owners, You Invest in the Future

In an era of outsourcing, global best practice calls upon corporations to develop their value chain partners.

By investing in small business development, you will enhance your business's supply chain, build relationships with local communities, and visibly demonstrate your commitment to your suppliers. It's an investment in the future—and critical in light of today's changing business landscape.

For 45 years, generous philanthropic support has enabled thousands of small business leaders to attend Tuck's programs. These alumni immediately apply their learning to help their businesses innovate and grow, benefiting their bottom line, their community, and your organization.

Sponsorships begin at $7,000 for one participant, and corporate partners have the ability to select the participant they sponsor.

“I’m a Tuckie for life! Thank you for reminding me that it is not about just me and my company, but the people behind me, my community, and the legacy I want to leave behind.”

— JOHANNA SUAREZ, CO-FOUNDER AND CEO OF RELIABLE RESTORATIONS
